ORDINANCE TO MODIFY DATES, TAXES PASSED

Assessments and Payments Moved Up By New Measure

BEGIN OCTOBER 1ST

Contentions Regarding the Street Work on Exeter Raised—L. and N. Plans Are Accepted.

Ordinance changing the assessment dates for city property and the period of tax collections in accordance with statutes governing cities of this class passed the first reading at the city commission meeting this morning.

The new ordinance provides that the assessor shall begin assessment of city property for the succeeding year on October 1, completing the work January 1. The commission will appoint three tax supervisors in March who will meet in April for possible adjustments. Taxes may be paid as soon as books are open but they will be due and payable September 1 and, if not paid on or before that date, penalty will attach.

The new city law will merely hasten the tax machinery each year. Under the law, or custom, that now prevails, the assessor does not begin work until January each year, the work is not finished before May and the supervisors usually meets in June. The ordinance will be effective after its passage and publication.

A delegation of Exeter avenue residents protested against the acceptance of the newly completed four blocks of paving tomorrow. They claim that more time should be allowed and that the work should be thoroughly checked.

Among other things, they contended that equalizinging the cost among the property owners was unfair to individuals, that at some places more grading was necessary than at others. They claimed also that equalizing the cost of the four intersections among all the property owners was not fair.

L. F. DeBusk, spokesman, stated that at some places too much dirt had been taken out at sewer excavations and that this was refilled, all work being done at the expense of the property owners.

Mayor Keeney said that the inspection tomorrow does not necessarily mean acceptance and that an impartial body of appraisers could be appointed to check the work.

A resident of the recently paved section of Exeter avenue stated that equalization of the cost of a block on all residents of the block was unfair as the street greatly varies in width along the block. This matter, he was told, would be further investigated.

Proposition of the L. & N. railway regarding a system of drainage near the intersection of Twentieth street and the railway tracks was accepted by the city. The company proposes to pay half the expense, exclusive of digging, and disclaims any damage that might result from such work. The matter was brought to the attention of the commission by a member of a lumber company firm which claimed that its property there was damaged by water.

The L. & N. submitted a proposition in regard to the property at Bloomsbury avenue and the railroad tracks. They offered to pay for the improvements at this point, provided that city deeds the property to the company. This proposition was accepted and the city attorney will attend to the legal phase of it.

Claiming that he had rendered a great public service by the removal of an old building near the intersection of Tenth street and Avondale avenue which permits drivers to see far in advance, thus eliminating accidents, G. W. Byers asked that the city allow him tax exemption this year as a recompense. The matter was referred the mayor.

A number of minor tax adjustments were asked and were either made or deferred for investigation.

MAD HORSE

Crashes Into Automobile, Injuring Two Men.

Glasgow, Ky., Sept. 22.—A frightened horse racing head on into an automobile probably fatally injured Sidney Holman when the horse struck the front of the automobile which Holman was driving at 11 o'clock last night. His companion, Clyde Breeding, postoffice employe, was seriously cut about the head. The horse fell the entire length of the machine, crushing the two men when it passed over the seat. Holman's skull was fractured. Holman is the son of P. W. Holman, president of the Kentucky Travelers' Protective Association.

HOOVER LAUDS FRED SACKETT

Republican Senatorial Nominee Was Associated With Hoover During the War.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 22.—"It is one of the most encouraging signs of the times that men of Fred Sackett's calibre are willing to make the sacrifices required by entering public service," writes Herbert Hoover in a letter to Alfred Brandeis, of Louisville, who with Mr. Sackett, was closely associated with the present Secretatry of Commerce during the war-time Food Administration.

Mr. Brandeis was Chief of the Cereal Enforcement Division and Mr. Sackett Food Administrator for Kentucky. Both gave two years of skillful, volunteer service to their country. Mr. Brandeis though a Democrat, is supporting Mr. Sackett in his candidacy for the United States Senatorship.

The letter reads:

"I was glad to learn some weeks ago of Mr. Sackett's nomination on the Republican Ticket for Senator from your state. The extraordinary ability and single-minded devotion to public service which Mr. Sackett gave during the war as the State Food Administrator long since endeared him to all of us engaged in this common task. It is one of the most encouraging signs of the times that men of Mr. Sackett's calibre are willing to make the sacrifices required by entering public service.

"The very large administrative problems with which he was confronted in the stimulation of production, securing of adequate protection to the Kentucky farmer in the conservation of food supplies throughout the state in order that we should have sufficient margins with which to support our soldiers and allies at the front, the prevention of profiteering and speculation—all of them required the highest degree of ability. The administration in the State of Kentucky was one of the ablest in the whole Nation.

"All this required not only ability, but courage, single-minded honest and an intimate knowledge of the economic problems as they concerned Kentucky and the whole country. Mr. Sackett's broad knowledge of State and National affairs would be a great contribution to the United States senate where there was never a time when sanity and experience were so needed.

"I hope Mr. Sackett will be elected. It is a good omen when he is supported by so sound a Democrat as yourself.

"Very truly yours,
"HERBERT HOOVER."

Upper Amazon Draws American Explorers

Associated Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Sept. —Dr. M. W. Stirling, it has been learned here, is soon to star ton a trip to South America, where he will spend several months in the unexplored regions of the upper Amazon, taking photographs of the life and customs of the local Indian tribes.

Dr. Stirling, who was formerly attached to the Smithsonian Institution, excavated a number of Indian mounds near St. Petersburg early this year. As a result of these labors he was able to report the discovery of new methods of Indian burial, and various interesting finds of pottery.

WISCONSIN STORM TOLL IS 33 DEAD

PLACES ISOLATED

Twenty-One Dead in Clark County From Sunday Storms—Scores Injured—Big Property Loss.

Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 22.—Partial restoration of wire communications today gradually increased the known toll of Sunday's storms in Wisconsin. Casualties were standing at noon today at thirty-three dead and scores injured with immense property damages reported.

This toll was taken in several scattered sections, some districts being still isolated, prompting a fear of further deaths when communications are normal. Twenty-persons were reported killed in the western part of Clark county.

STORM DAMAGE AT CUMBERLAND GAP

Heaviest Rain in 30 Years Last Night—Bridges Washed Out, Homes Flooded.

Though Middlesboro suffered little, if any, by the heavy downpour of rain last night, reports from Cumberland Gap indicate serious damages there. Homes were flooded, bridges washed out and many minor damages suffered. Damage there is estimated to be at least $2,000.

The rain whoch began at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening approached a cloudburst in its intensity. Homes along the creek were flooded with water it being necessary to rescue a Bliee family from their home to save their lives.

Bridges washed away were small structures but the loss of them is heavily felt by the residents. The streets of the town became streams of swiftly moving water during the storm and a quantity of gravel and tar, intended for use in improving the streets, was washed away.

The waters had receded from the streets this morning. Residents say that it is the heaviest rain storm in that section for thirty years.

It rained almost unceasingly here last night, the water at times falling in heavy volumes, but a great part of it was absorbed on the ground. The canal was swollen this morning but not to an unusual extent.

Rev. Archer Returned to Pastorate Here

The Rev. W. B. Archer, pastor of the First Methodist church will have the pastorate of that church during the coming year, according to information received from the Southeastern Kentucky conference now in session at Ashland. The Rev. Frakes has been returned to the Pineville church.

Members of the local church highly appreciate having the Rev. Archer here for another year and the pastor is delighted to be here.

Powder Charges Start Airplanes on Flight

WASHINGTON, Sept. —The motive force of explosives may supplant that of compressed air in catapaulting airplanes from the decks of naval vessels as a result of recent tests at the Anacostin, D. C., air station.

In the new catapult a pistol shot ignites a powder charge which literally "blows" the carriage on which the plane rests to the rail at the rate of 60 miles an hour, bumpers, but the plane continues on its way.

BOY KILLS AUNT, INJURES 3 MORE

Fatal Argument Over Penknife — Two Children Victims May Die From Attack.

Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, C. C., Sept. 22. — Asbury Wessingerm, 14, is held today on murder charge following a confession that because he "got mad" over an argument about a lost penknife he killed his aunt with an axe and attacked three small children, injuring two of them probably fatally.

The boy admitted to officers yesterday that the story previously related about being chased away by a tall negro was fictitious. Three negroes who were arrested on suspicion were immediately released. The two children victims who will likely die are aged six and four while the lady, one year old, may recover.

Father and Son Weds, Makes Complications

Associated Press.

MUNICH, Sept. 22.—The recent weddings of Karl Braun, 25 years old, and his father have started an endless chain of relationships that has got beyond the reach of genallogists and culminated in Braun becoming his father's father-in-law.

Young Braun married a widow of 45 with grown up children. Shortly after his father, 50 years of age, married the 24-year-old daughter of his son's wife. Genealogists figure that as a result of the two weddings young Braun became his father's father-in-law and that his wife's daughter became her mother's mother-in-law and the stepmother of her own step-father.

SAYS HELBURN IS "BIG NOISE" HERE

Capt. Gilbreath Highly Pleased With Inspection Trip of Route A.

Capt. W. S. Gilbreath, manager of the Detroit Automobile club, is pleased with the results of the inspection trip which he made over the Dixie Highway Route A in company with Ed Matheson, manager of the tourist bureau, and N. Buckner, manager th Asheville Motor club. That the local State Highway commissioner is held in high esteem in this section by the following letter from Capt. Gilbreath:

"I have recntly visited and inspected a portion of the Dixie Highway between Corbin and Beren. Every time I turned around I heard somebody mention Major Helburn. It was Major Helburn this and Major Helburn that until I commenced to feel that this Major Helburn was the "big noise" in that part of the country.

"I want to say to you that the work that has been done in that section of the country is absolutely marvelous. I know, from my inspection, that a very large portion is due to you and to your earnest and active co-operation with the worthy citizens of your state, who are attempting to build good highways; and I want to offer you my congratulations and say to you if these is anything I can do to assist in the good work, I will be glad to do it and I have decided to join the ranks of those who are praising Major Helburn for his wonderful work."

Eagle Gobbles Gold Ball

TALLAHASSE, Fla., Sept

A possible eagle on the course of the Tallahassee country club here was made impossible by a real eagle, the big bird swooping down on the eighth green to seize a golf ball as it was trickling in the general direction of the cup. Fred C. Elliot was the victim and gained scant comfort from the assurance that the eagle was "an agency outside the match" and the incident could not be held "a rub of the green."

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT courtesy is a great business getter. It costs nothing to be courteous.

THAT courtesy is a profitable pleasure. It is one of the leading lights of business and brings sure returns.

THAT people who have good dispositions, who are willing to work and who know how to smile, are always courteous. They make good employees for any business.

THAT the courteous clerk, the friendly clerk and the clerk who makes the customers feel as though their business is appreciated has made many a successful business more successful.

THAT courtesy is a helpful service. It helps business, customers and the city.

THAT courteous treatment to the stranger brings many a city tangible results. It brings a class of people who like to live and do business in a friendly city.

THAT some places of business have too much stately courtesy and too little business courtesy.

Courtesy pleases and service brings dividends. A city that shows courtesy to visitors is generally the city that everybody likes.

PASTOR SAYS HE POISONED WIFE SEPT. 10

He Also Confesses to Poisoning Sweetin In July.

"RELIEVED PAIN"

Minister Tells Officers of Double Murder—Put Poison In Coffee of His Wife.

Associated Press.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Sept. 22. —The Rev. Lawrence Hight, Ina pastor, confessed today poisoning his wife and Wilford Sweetin. In a statment to authorities today, Hight declared that the murder of his wife was prompted to "relieve her sufferings." According to the statement, he placed the poison in her coffee on the morning of September 10.

Hight was questioned from 9 o'Clock last night until 4 o'clock morning before the confession was obtained, authorities said. A few minutes later, they added, the pastor confessed also to poisoning Sweetin.

He claimed he was temporarily out of his mind at the time. Hight said he poisoned Sweetin's water to put him out of pain. This was done at the Sweetin home last July while Sweetin was ill. Mrs. Sweetin was completely absolved from connection with the crime.

PARIS, KY., HAS TOURIST CAMP

Camp on Georgetown Pike Operated by Paris City Service Club.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 22.—"We want you to know that Paris, Kentucky, has established a "Community Tourist Camp," operated by the Paris City Service Club," is the information received last night from Wallace Hatch, executive secretary of the Paris club to the Asheville Western Carolina Motor Club.

Mr. Hatch states the camp is on the Georgetown pike half a mile from main street, on high ground, and is equipped with all modern conveniences, including running water, shower baths, cook stoves, electric lights, telephone, picnic tables and other comforts, and that the camp has a capacity for fifty cars, which may be enlarged as the tourist traffic increases.

Now that around 200 cars a day are going south from states north of Kentucky over the Dixie Route A, Mr. Hatch states, our people are beginning to see the results of the opening up of the road through Kentucky and know that the traffic will increase as the road is further improved and it becomes better known.

N. Buckner, manager of the Asheville Western Caralolina Moto club, stated last night Paris cooperated generously in a financial way in helping to open the road in Laurel, Rockcastle and Knox counties, the improvement being such as to warrant the Detroit Automobile club in sending its official road car from Detroit through Cincinnati, Paris, Lexington, Cumberland Gap to Asheville and Hendersonville to have first information for its touring department in Detroit.

Boston Girls Make Big Hike Over Country

Middlesboro had two attractive visitors Saturday in the persons of three yung women who are hiking over the country studying social conditions.

Miss Corrine McCarthy, of the social service department of the Americanization Society, Miss Bertha Duncan McNiel, field worker of the organization and an athletic instructor who failed to divulge her identity composed the party. They are hiking from Boston, making a study of conditions at each place they stop.

The left yesterday for Washington from which point they will proceed to Atlantic City, thence back to Boston. During their journey they visited Mammoth Cave and other points of interest in the state.

FOUR SERVICES HERE YESTERDAY

Dr. McKee Preached Four Times at Presbyterian Church Sunday.

Four splendid services, all well attended, marked the revival at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday. Dr. J. L. McKee, the evangelist, spoke at the regular church services, morning and evening, to the children at 2:30 p. m. and at a mass meeting of men at 3:30 p. m. Miss Mary Dan Harbeson sang beautifully at each service. Dr. McKee's subject tonight will be on "The Home" and at the 3 o'clock meeting tomorrow afternoon he will conduct a forum on "Making the Church More Efficient."

Dr. McKee spoke yesterday morning on the text, "Awake thou who sleepest and Christ will give thee life." He emphasized God's call, promise and command, bringing out three points: The conviction of the Spirit, convincing one of sin, the activity which results from being awakened, and the influx of light, progressive in the Christian life until he becomes like Christ. Miss Harbeson sang effectively the beautiful "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp and "The Saviour First of All."

At the children's meeting in the afternoon Dr. McKee gave a graphic resume of Sampson's early life, telling the experiences of his youth his courtship and his first deeds of prowess.

At the 3:30 meeting, Dr. McKee addressed a large group of representative men of the city, making a ringing appeal on behalf of high living as citizens and Christians. He prefaced the address with a short history of God's people, Israel, sketching briefly such outstanding figures as David, Solomon, Rehoboam and Jerchoam, the last conspicious in the history of Israel and of the world because he caused all Israel to sin. Human nature has not changed, the speaker brought out, God hasn't changed and sin is the same in all ages. Hence, he showed, history repeats itself and in America today private life and national life are confronted with the same corrupt elements, the world, the flesh and the devil. Our nation will be wrecked on the same rocks, the speaker declared, if it follows in the steps of those who preceded, allowing the cause of the world and the influence of sin to share our destiny. Those who heard Dr. McKee were strongly impressed with his vision of truth, both as man and minister, and with his unusual ability to present the salient truths of the state and the church.

U. S. Embassy in Japan Maintains Resort

TOKIO, Sept. The "summer embassy" of the United States has been established in Karuizawa, the best known mountain resort of Japan, 90 miles north of Tokio.

The embassy, without a permanent home since its old building was destroyed by fire the night of last September, leads a somewhat roving existence, and is confronted by the problem of finding new quarters when the staff returns from Karuizawa to Tokio at the end of the summer.

Offices are still maintained in the Imperial Hotel in Tokio, which has housed the embassy since the earthquake.

MISS STINSON DENIES MEANS REPUDIATIONS

Characterizes Statements as "Ridiculous."

DENIES COERCION

Means Raises Sensation by Statement That Testimony in Senate Probe Was "Inspired."

Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 22.—Miss Roxie Stinson, one of the Senate Committee's star witnesses during the investigation of the administration of Harry Daugherty, former United States attorney general today characterized as "ridiculous" the purported statement of Gaston Means, former Department of Justice agent, to the former general repudiating the testimony before the committee.

Miss Stinson denied the statements attributed by Means to her declaring that she, like himself gave testimony "inspired by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, prosecutor of the investigation." She also denied coercion being used in obtaining her testimony.

She was only casually acquainted with Means, she asserted, adding that he could know nothing about her. The testimony of Means in repudiation was made public here yesterday by Daugherty in a letter to John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president.

ABOARD WHEELER SPECIAL EN ROUTE TO BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 22.—Gaston Means says the witness in the Daugherty inquiry whose repudiation of his own testimony was published today called Senator Wheeler an independent candidate for vice-president on long distance last night gave startling versions, Wheeler announced today.

Means asked that the Senate investigating committee be summoned that he might present documentary evidence and personal testimony proving that he said, even grosser corruption in the executive department of Washington than was alleged in the evidence before the hearing last April Senator Wheeler declared.

An Appreciation of Major Helburn.

In another column we are printing today a letter from W S Gilbreath manager of the Detroit Automobile club, written as an appreciation for the work of Major Helburn in the promotion of good roads in Eastern Kenucky and Kentucky as a whole

The letter comes as a well merited approval of a faithful public servant Mr Helburn has been indefatigable in his efforts to promote the best interests of this section of the state Coming from a person of the known weight in the road and automotive world as Mr Gilbreath, who has lately returned to Detroit from an inspection of the Dixie Highway it shows conclusively that the efforts of the Major in the direction of good roads has been more than statewide

We are sometimes inclined to overlook the merits of our home men in the promotion of matters of civic improvement and give the credit to those who day in and day out get into the headlines Major Helburn has given freely of his time to the ends that the city, the county, and this section should have as good highways as any He has been and is a real vital factor in the promotion of good highways, and the praise of Mr Gilbreath comes as no more than his just due

THE CONDITION OF SOUTH TWENTIETH STREET

Residents of south Twentieth street, were shut off from the city for several hours this morning following the deluge of last night on account of the water backing over the street between Chester avenue and the railway tracks

In some places in the street, the water reached the depth of two feet, and made the street impassable for automobiles unless the driver was well acquainted with the inequalities in the roadway

While some provisions have been made for the improvement of this street at a later date it would be desirable for the city commission to give it early attention The street is the only thoroughfare through which the residents of the Fern Lake section can reach the city. Residents living in the section near the railroad tracks are shut off for several hours after every heavy rain The program as indicated, provides for a cement roadway twenty feet wide to extend from the intersection of Chester avenue to the railway tracks No place in town needs the road way quite as badly as this The stream that comes out of the hills near this point could be readily ditched into the conduit on Twentieth street that provides for surface water. It has been stated that this conduit will not carry the water.

However, is was only half full this morning while the back water is caused by willows and trash in which could not reach the outlet The proposed street improvement cannot be made this year but the ditch could be opened the water allowed to flow. Since the improvement the Bell County Lumber company has made this section of the city take on quite a different appearance. With proper drainage the street improvement it would make an ideal residence section as it does in close proximity to the business heart of the city. The present con-

MR LAFOLLETTE AND WISCONSIN TAXATION.

The revolt in Wisconsin against the "lumber barons" occurred twenty years or more ago Before that time state politics was in the hands of the lumber interests and large corporations with big timber holdings Mr LaFollette and his attending satellites rode into power on the state on the flood of the revolt and with astute political acumen has succeeded in remaining in power a period the greater part of time

Politics in Wisconsin have always been more or less of an enigma to the onlooker from outside the state It is also probable that they are not understood by one tenth of the people inside the commonwealth In the lumber days the "down state" farmer and small property owner in the city, for the burden of taxation followed the advent of LaFollette to power beneficial legislation was passed for the benefit of the small farmer or smaller holdings

However, now practically the LaFollette machine has been defeated it took on a little different aspect The privileges of the interests in Wisconsin for instance the liquor war gauntlet as well or better than under the old lumber regime and while it has the outer form of friendship to the people the control of the LaFollette program was to cut them in the middle wealthy class and make them a part of the organization Large corporations continued to receive the trials of LaFollette wrath but the legislation for the smaller property owners was a rule conspicuous by its absence The LaFollette machine backed by the drumfire kept up by the small city papers of the state press who were direct beneficiaries of the LaFollette organization in the smaller counties rode into power year after year The smaller papers of the state heaped anathemas on the "kept" city press who opposed the LaFollette machine while in many sense were the larger papers as much kept as their smaller critics who whooped it up year after year for the "common people"

Taxation in Wisconsin is therefore under a system of exemption from direct tax moneys, bonds mortgages and other securities and substituting therefor an income tax on the holders of such revenue producing securities Mr LaFollette and his supporters have established a system of taxation under which, for example, a $5,000,000 income from mortgages bonds, etc, with many exemptions, pays a tax of about $70,000 per year while personal property valued at $3,000,000 on a farm assessed at 50 percent valuation and the farm lands and building valued at $7,000,000 assessed at the same proportionate rate pays a total tax of $150,00

The home of the laborer may valued at $1,000,00 and assessed at 50 percent of valuation on a 3 per cent basis, pays $15,00 or more than half of the tax paid on an income from $100,000,00 worth of bonds and mortgages such income being approximately $6,000,000 per year

While efforts are being made in many states to secure proper taxation on what is known as tax exempt securities we find Mr LaFollette's state, and he is the state government of Wisconsin still, under the plan of exempting moneys, credits, etc, which includes mortgages and bonds and plainly working to the advantage of the capitalist with a corresponding harm to the farmer and small home owner Under the Wisconsin system if the owners of bonds and mortgages were taxed at the same rate as the small home owner and farmer, they would pay taxes on 50 percent of $100,000,000 which would amount to $1,500,000 compared with the $70,000 which is now actually paid

OCTOGENERIANS MAKING RACE IN NEW JERSEY

Edge and Kean In the Senatorial Contests In New Jersey.

BLIND MAN RUNS

Seven of Twelve Representatives Are Opposed for Nomination —1874 Incumbents In Race

By Associated Press

NEWARK, N J, Sept 22—The New Jersey primaries, on September 23, will bring to an end the sharp contest between United States Senator Walter I Edge and National Committeeman Hamilton F Kean, for the Republican nomination now held by Senator Edge The National Non Partisan Political Campaign committee of the American Federation of Labor and the Anti Saloon League have opposed Senator Edge

Upon the outcome of this struggle will depend the number of candidates for United States Senator in the November elections The Rev Dr James A Shields, for years superintendent of the State Anti Saloon League in resigning recently announced that he did so with the intention of becoming an independent candidate for senator should Kean be eliminated in the primaries

Mayor F W Donnelly, of Trenton, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination, but in the November elections the name of George L Record, former Governor, who is supporting the presidential candidacy of Senator LaFollette, also will appear as the progressive candidate

Seven of New Jersey's 12 representatives in Congress, six Republicans and one Democrat will be opposed for nomination Charles A O'Brien, of the twelfth district, will not seek renomination on the Democratic ticket and for his office Mrs Mary T Norton, vice chairman of the Democratic State committee, is unopposed in the H Garrin of the third district, Charles F Brower of the fourth, Frank L McNulty, of the eighth, and Daniel F Minahan, of the ninth, all Democrats, are unopposed for renomination

Mercer county's octogenarian assemblyman, George O Vanderbilt, who was a member of the Assembly in 1874 and 1875, and who was returned to the body last year, will be a candidate for renomination, while Jacob Klotz Sr of Somerville, is a candidate for Democratic nomination as assemblyman in Somerset county Thomas M Muir, blind assemblyman of Plainfield, is a candidate for renomination on the Republican ticket, and all of the four women who were members of last years Assembly are seeking another term

GRAIN DEALERS HEAR ADDRESSES

Charges Minority Practicing Blackmail on Congress Made by Quinn

By Associated Press

CINCINNATI Sept 22—Strongly organized minorities are practicing virtual blackmail on members of congress," Secretary Charles Quinn of the Grain Dealers National Association declared in his annual report to the convention today

It is said on good authority there are no fewer than 500 of these organized minorities," the speaker said, "with offices and lobbyists in Washington This situation must be remedied if we are to go the way of other countries that have changed parliamentary governments to dictatorships"

Proponents of the McNary-Haugen bill were classed by the speaker as one of these minorities'

The weapon they used to compell congressmen to supports the measure was the threat of defeat at the polls next election It was blackmail There was no attempt to convince the lawmakers the proposed act was sound Indeed, proponents frankly admitted the bill's economic weaknesses'

The farm bloc" Mr Quinn asserted raised the cry of orderly marketing, which appealed to the masses unfamiliar with the slow and natural evolution of principles in this country With the demand for orderly marketing, through co operation, there grew like mushrooms various plans to pool grain and hold it for higher prices

And then there were added to the farm bloc minority in congress representatives from some of the wheat pools They had been holding grain at a loss to their members, and to recoup these losses promoted the economically unsound export corporation bill For a time it appeared that they would force congress to embark on this socialistic scheme It was a most striking example of the work of organize minorities

Such methods, the speaker declared, were contrary to sound principles of government They are as unfair he said, as demands for investigations which merely create pressure situations and cause the public to suspect various industries

There were 64 investigations going on in the United States setting in 1922 Mr Quinn declared but not more than six results in reports that reached the public Great mischief was done to business, nevertheless Suspicion was created and the seeds of envy malice and mistrust were sown These are the things that are undermining democracy The work of energetic minorities is gradually subverting the American form of government into a government of classes'

Discredits Gold as Monetary Standard

Associated Press

LONDON, Sept Great Britain digs gold in South Africa to pay her war debt to America and America buries the precious metal again so that it will not interfere with the economic life of the United States, Pethick Lawrence Labor member of Parliament, told an audience recently at the Independent Labor Party's Summer School at Cloughton near Scarborough

It is almost comic said Mr Lawrence that we employ people to dig gold from under the earth and send it to those who bury it under the earth

The speaker, who is one of the intellectuals of the British Labor movement, referred to the annual payment Great Britain makes to the United States in settlement of the enormous debt left over from the war He said that events of the last decade had destroyed confidence in the gold basis and that a paper basis for currency must be established

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

(By Harry B Hunt)

WASHINGTON, Sept 22—How much do women really care about politics?

That's what the party dopesters are wondering about They figure the first genuine test will come this fall Women had the franchise four years ago but it had only just been given to them and there was not time enough before election for much of an effort to get their full vote out

This campaign a very vigorous effort is being made

That a few women are interested there's no question Those engaged in the woman's work of the campaign are as enthusiastic as any of the brethren

But the rank and file

Party managers speak very confidently of the feminine support they expect their various tickets to get but the fact is they don't know, can't even guess

It's possible for more women's votes to be cast than men's There are more women in the country A good many men are indifferent. The ballot's no novelty to them Women to whom it is a novelty, may get a kick out of casting it for just that reason

Or maybe they haven't generally been educated up to an interest in politics yet

The next three or our weeks will tell the story Registration will be about finished then If women do not register they can't vote If they do register, it's fair to assume most of them will be on hand at the polls.

Director S T Mather of the National Park Service is going to South America to look over the scenery for ideas worth adopting in this country. He may see some things he'll have trouble reproducing here, even with government aid.

For instance, on the Argentine-Brazilian border, he'll see Iguazu Falls. They're higher and wider than Niagara The gorge they empty into is deeper than Niagara's, too

This gorge in turn empties into the River Parana Nearly every year during high water the Parana backs into the gorge and fills it clear to the top, so that for the time being there are no falls

Imagine Director Mather getting the Ontario to back into the Niagara river until the falls disappeared

If Jim" Couzens wins in November, as he won in the Michigan senatorial primaries, it means investigation of prohibition, in connection with his treasury inquiry, will go the limit

Even beaten he will have, as a lame duck, until March 4, 1925, to go on with his work but most of the pep will be taken out of it But if he's elected he'll have the increased prestige of endorsement by the voters of his state

In spite of everything the other congressional investigations will lack, after election something of the jazz which characterized them before the houses adjourned Then everybody was interested in the effect they might have on the 1924 campaign When they're resumed—such as are resumed—the next election will be a long way ahead

Prohibition, however, is nonpartisan, with an interest all its own

Although America isn't in on the pending international arbitration negotiations at Geneva, the Washington government keeps an eye on them

England's statement of the terms on which she's willing to accept compulsory arbitration has rather stumped officials here Compulsory arbitration is all right, the English say, but it mustn't apply to anything their navy does in attempting to keep or restore peace.

The Washington official impression is that this leaves considerable latitude for interpretation and it's all England's latitude—whatever interpretation she puts on her navy's doings, other countries will have to agree to.

However, being no party to the negotiations, America hasn't anything to say about it.

Wins State Championship

A state championship is, after all, a state championship, so Miss Maureen Orcutt, shown here, must be given credit for possessing some real golfing ability. She is only 17 but she won the state golf championship of New Jersey by defeating Mrs. Walter MacGowan of Montclair Golf Club. Miss Orcutt is a member of White Beeches club.

Tazewell Defeated By Southern Team

The Southern Railway team defeated the Tazewell players in one of the most interesting games of the season at the East End athletic field yesterday afternoon. The final score being 5-4.

Wasson and Berkley were pitchers for the Tennessee boys. Sowders was catcher for the Southern.

This will be the last baseball game of the season on the East End diamond, the high school football players having taken over the field for their practice. Another game may be played by the Southern team at another place, however.

Display of Pups

A quintette of puppies in the Green Parrot window forms an interesting display. The small collies are exhibited by there by their owner, a Middlesboro man. They were placed there Saturday morning and a large number of people have witnessed their antics in their novel home.

BLACK GOLD IS MAKING READY

Trainers of Turf Artist Putting Him in Trim for Latonia Event October 11.

Associated Press.

LATONIA, Sept. 22.—The Latonia International special, to be run here October 11, over a mile and a quarter, is the jewel the trainers of Black Gold are pointing him for as a fitting supplement to the crown of four derbies already worn by him. The coal black son of Black Toney and Useeit is quartered at the track here where he will remain until the last of a series of three international races in which the famous French race horse Epinard will run, have been staged.

Entrance to the unpretentious stall of the horse is closely guarded by a dog on whose face is unmistakably hung a "Not Welcome" sign. This dog is Black Gold's close companion and wherever the horse goes the dog usually can be found near at hand.

It is considered likely that Black Gold will be entered in one of the races during the Latonia fall meeting. His entry will be merely to sharpen his condition for the big race, which has been given a greater caste by the entrance of Epinard.

Black Gold has become temperamental since he has been in temporary retirement. He has a playful habit of tearing clothes off visitors, and all are cautioned before going anywhere near the part Indian pony to be on the alert for some of his pranks.

LONDON CATERS TO AMERICANS

American Visitors Spending Half Million Weekly in London.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—With the American "invasion" of London in full swing, the manager of a big Oxford Street store has estimated that the visitors from over the Atlantic were spending somewhat more than $500,000 a week in the English capital.

London shopkeepers have awakened to the fact that by far the greater number of Americans who come to England these days are people of moderate means, who watch their shillings and pence as carefully as does the frgual Briton. There are still visiting millionaires who amaze the English by the prodigality with which they scatter money about, but there is only one millionaire where there are a thousand people of relatively small income.

Hence Bond Street shopkeepers are finding it to their advantage to mark the prices on their window displays. This has stimulated the trade with the visitors. Ten years ago Bond Street shopkeepers thought it beneath their dignity to have price labels in the windows.

The oddest purchase of the season seems to have been in the shop of an optician. An American, after some hesitation, and fitting, selected a monocle and ribbon for half a guinea. When he made his choice he said he wanted half a dozen of them, and explained that he had four boys and a girl at home in Chicago who had all asked to bring them back an eye-glass from London "just like the dukes wear."

ZR 3 NOT GIVING ANY FREE RIDES

Every Precaution Possible Being Taken to Guard Against Stowaways.

Associated Presss.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Sept. 22.—Every precaution against possibility of stowaways attempting to get a free ride to America on the ZR3 will be taken by the Zeppelin officials here prior to the start of the dirigible on her westward trip to Lakehurst, New Jersey.

An incident of a German fond of adventure who "beat" his way to Rome in a reparations ship, is still fresh in the minds of flying officers here. The German, Walter Cron, a Friedrichshafen banker, hid himself inside the LZ 120 which which was turned over to Italy in 1919, several hours prior to the start of the flight southward, and was not discovered by the crew until the ship had passed well over Switzerland. Cron was turned over to the Italian police when the dirigible arrived at her destination.

For weeks prior to the hop-off of the ZR3 for Lakehurst, the great hangar here in which the ship is housed has been guarded day and during the hours of darkness lights were kept burning outside the shed to prevent any unauthorized person approaching without being seen. Admission to the hangar itself was by special card only.

Danes Eager to Meet American Boy Scouts

Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, Sept. —American Boy Scouts still hold the first place in the hearts of the Danish public. Newspapers have all lauded their fine bearing, excellent equipment and their tremendous power for cheering and uttering weird and penetrating noises.

The American scouts are delighted with their visit and particularly pleased by the proximity of the place where they take their morning swim and play water polo. They are appreciative also of the attitude of the Danish scouts in refusing to take part in the contests where knowledge of the local geography is a help.

Associated Press

MELBOURNE, Sept. 18.—According to present plans Australia will have one of the most up-to-date observatories in the world.

Dr. Duffield, professor of physic at the Reading University, will shortly arrive in Australia from London to take up his work as director of the observatory at Camberra, the new Australian capital. He hopes that the observatory will be a link between England and America and become one of a chain of stations which will keep watch on the sun during the whole of twenty-four hours.

Mexico Would Save Children

Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1.—More than 50 percent of the children born in Mexico never reach their first birthday, the federal department of health has announced in a bulletin with which it opened a child saving campaign. "Thousands of these little ones die because of improper alimentation," the department asserts.

FINLAND HELPS RADIO AMATEURS

Government Allots Wave Lengths and in General Encourages Development.

Special to The Daily News.

TURKU, Finland, Sept. 22.—There is a growing interest among radio amateurs in this country in private radio telegraph communication with operators in Denmark, Holland, Luxembourgh, and France. Leo Lindell, who is the owner of the local amateur stations FNA and 2NA, has been heard in all those places with unusual success. He is one of the directors of a Finnish amateur radio relay association, which actively engaged in promoting the idea of international code communication.

For a small country, Finland has taken a most friendly interest in the welfare of its amateurs and the government has alloted them a maximum transmition wave length of 200 meters and a power range of from 5 to 20 watts, depending on the proximity of the amateurs to the high power government transmitting stations. The use of the maximum amount of power is limited to the continuous wave sets.

Under the guidance of the amateur relay association, which is patterned somewhat on the organization of the American Radio Relay League of the United States and Canada, radio divisions have been assigned throughout the country and have been organized to facilitate the handling of private amateur radiograms.

"The British Broadcasting Company is planning an attempt during the spring to radio the song of the nightingale in its native haunts."—Cable Dispatch to The New York Herald Tribune.

O shade of Shelley, have you heard that Spring
Smiles on the earth and that the souls which sing
Poet or bird, a bard or nightingale,
Are tuned to song that minstrelsy prevail?

And do you know that now, from sea to sea,
Across the continents, and where ever there be
An ear that listens, shall be heard at times
The bird you hymned and your immortal rhymes?

Such wonders come, as years sink into years!
A song is sung, and lo, a whole world hears!
You live again who feared your light would fail—
Your song is ours and ours your nightingale.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS ON THE NEED OF NAVY

Says Navy Has Declined After Late War.

NOT ENOUGH FUNDS

Ships Need Repairs Constantly, Assistant Secretary Says and Replacement Is Needed.

By Charles P. Stewart.

Among Naval officers there's an with the Washington five power navy part

The ground is that the treaty has weakened America's fighting fleet out of proportion to England's and Japan's; also that it prevents the United States from fortifying overseas bases—in readiness for possible future trouble

The dissatisfaction is not out it exists unquestionably.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt isn't in agreement with it

"But for the arms limitation treaty," he says, "in my opinion the United States navy would be over the dam by this time.

"History shows how this country's navy has declined after every war.

"It has declined since the last war, but not as it would have declined if we had not had a standard set for us—the treaty's 5-5-3 standard—5 for Britian 5 for us and 3 for Japan.

"We are not up to the full treaty allowance, but still we have a standard, which has kept us from declining as far as, otherwise we probably would

"For the navy's maintenance we haven't quite as much money as we need.

"The navy has been living on its fat for several years—on what was left over from the war As ships grow older they need, proportionately, more for repairs, like an automobile We have somewhat less than the navy requires for the repairs.

"Furthermore we must work out and adopt a general replacement program Fleet units become obsolete at stated periods and must be replaced We must not let ourselves be confronted with a situation where a large portion of our navy becomes obsolete at once.

"That would be a mistake from the standpoint of both efficiency and economy.

"We must endeavor to spread the load as evenly as possible over the years."

It was Colonel Roosevelt who sent to Congress the recommendation for an increase in the elevation of the navy's turret guns, so as to give them a range equal to England's—a recommendation which brought a protest from the British, on the ground that this change would be a violation of the arms limitation agreement.

"I have in no way changed my opinion since my recommendation to Congress," the colonel says. "If I had considered it in contravention of the treaty I would not have recommended it then."

Though Colonel Roosevelt does not agree with some of the navy critics concerning the effect of the arms limitation part, the navy's best friends like him for all that.

DEMPSEY IS NEW STAR IN FILMS

Plays Splendid Part in New Picture Coming to the Manring Theatre Soon.

The world's heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey, is known everywhere in the world. Since his sensational leap to the championship, when he defeated Jess Willard, he has been the outstanding figure in the world of sports. Held invincible, he has never yet met an opponent who even caused him any apprehension in the ring. Angel Firpo, Tommy Gibbons, Georges Carpentier—all have been beaten by him Many sport writers claim he is the greatest fighter in the entire history of the ring.

Jack Dempsey was born in Colorado, and as a boy worked his way through grade school and high school. During his high school days he became noted as an amateur fighter, and finally, in Utah, entered the ring professionally. He next went to Oakland, California, where he appeared in small bouts, and it was there he was "discovered" by Gerald Beaumont, now the famous author, and then in Oakland sporting editor. No wonder he jumped at the opportunity to star in a series of fight pictures for Universal which were written by Beaumont.

Dempsey, out of the ring, is a big, lovable chap. He idolizes his mother and sister. He loves to play with children and dogs, and, though he makes his living fighting is as tender as a woman. In those pictures, "Fight and Win," he plays the inimitable Jack O'Day for Universal, booked by Manager Brown of the Manring theatre, beginning Wednesday.

Siberian Squirrels For Women's Coats

By Associated Press.

RIGA, Sept., 20.—German fur dealers returning from Russia report that the prospects this season are excellent for a plentiful supply of squirrel skins, especially from Siberia, where there is an exceptionally good crop of nuts. Whenever nuts grow abundantly, over the furriers, there are always plenty of squirrels.

The nut crop throughout Russia is said to be better than in many years, one dealer alone has placed an order for 650,000 squirrel pelts, for winter delivery. Most of these will be made into women's coats in Leipsic, and some will be sold in the United States.

Parsons Must Acquire Better Pulpit Voices

Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 1 —The comedy parson, one of the standing jokes on the English variety stage is threatened with extinction. With the enthusiastic support of the Archbishops of Canterbury and of York, a scheme is to be launched in October whereby all theological students preparing for Holy orders in the Church of England will be trained in the right production and management of voice.

Already the sum of $10,000 has been secured to meet the expenses of instruction. Teachers will be assigned to train in voice production and elocution to the end that all clergymen be taught to read and preach with "clearness, sympathy and reverence."
